The Democrats follow the Republican lead and keep on "trust busting" if anything, the prosecutions are coming thicker than ever.

In view of the fact that the poet laureate's salary in England is $350, with an allowance of $135 in lieu of "a butt of sack," we foresee no feverish rush for Alfred Austin's old place.

That Montreal audience in a moving picture show has something to explain about their act of hissing a picture of President Wilson's inauguration. Indeed, the act is so incomprehensible that one is almost inclined to think that the report was unfounded.

Another engineer reported to have run by his signals! The report may be proven false because we have a live engineer to explain the reason why one section of an express train crashed into the first section of the train, as at Stamford, Conn., Thursday. Oftentimes it is a dead engineer that is blamed for the catastrophe.

PUTTING THE FLY OUT OF COMMISSION.

The campaign against the fly pest which the civic department of the Barre Woman's club has inaugurated looks like a hard task because of the myriads of the insects; and, indeed, it would be a hard task were the efforts to be confined simply to "swatting the fly" without going to the source of the trouble. "Swatting the fly" is a good remedy as far as it goes, but it falls far short of meeting the full requirements of the situation. We may swat from now till snow comes and still make little progress toward the extermination of the pest (and we may as well understand at the outset that complete extermination of the pest will be impossible); the only powerful remedy will be the removal, as far as possible, of the breeding-places of the insect.

Therefore, the civic department of the local woman's club has started on the right course in order to reduce the fly nuisance as far as possible. The circular, "The Career of the Fly," which they have caused to be issued, presents some facts that cannot be controverted, because the statements have been determined by searching investigation and after many experiences; and at the same time some efficacious remedies are presented for guidance of the people of Barre in reducing the pest to a minimum. If the people of the community will take pains to follow the remedies therein presented, or any considerable number of the people, the nuisance will be abated in large measure. Just what this would mean to the betterment of the public health of the city is, of course, hard to determine, but it is certain that much disease would be removed in the elimination of the great carrier of the disease germs—the common house fly. With that understanding of the situation, let the people of the city lend their co-operation to the civic department of the Barre Woman's club, beginning at once.

THE VERMONT DEATH RATE, AND BARRE'S.

Bulletin 112 of the census bureau, which relates to general death rates, etc., gives the latest official statistics of the country, the figures being for the year 1911. Vermont is included in the registration area and three cities of the state are treated in detail, they being Burlington, Rutland and Barre; and the information therein given is of considerable interest. We are informed that the death rate in Vermont for the year 1911 was 15.8 per one thousand of the population. Barre with a rate of 14.3, or 158 deaths in an estimated population for that year of 11,013, was the only one of the three cities below the average death rate for the state, Burlington was far higher than Rutland, with 426 deaths in an estimated population of 20,691, or a rate of 20.6, and Rutland had 229 deaths in an estimated population of 13,796, or a rate of 16.6. Thus it will be seen that in spite of the large percentage of deaths from tuberculosis, Barre holds a good position in regard to deaths in general.

The death rate from tuberculosis of the lungs still runs very high in Barre, there being 35 deaths from that cause in the year 1911, out of total deaths of 158, or more than twenty-two per cent. of the entire cause of death in the city. No doubt the large death rate from tuberculosis of the lungs is due principally to the fact that little or no effort is being made to check the disease, save by scattered attempts at education of the people as to treatment and, prior to that, to prevention of the disease. Anyway, it does not speak well for Barre that some active work is not being done to checkmate the disease.

YOUNG MAN IN TROUBLE

Ernest Mack of Brattleboro Alleged to Have Collected and Not Paid.

Brattleboro, June 14.—Ernest Mack, an employee of the Richardson markets, was arrested Thursday afternoon on a warrant charging him with embezzlement. He was brought before municipal judge Frank E. Barber and held under $500 bonds for the county court. The defendant's father, John Mack, furnished the bonds.

It is claimed by the Richardson concern that the young man has been collecting bills from customers for some time and failing to make returns of the amounts collected. It is alleged that he has obtained about $100 in this way.

MIDDLEMAN NOT TO BLAME

He Doesn't Figure in the High Cost of Living.

Washington, June 14.—The middleman, frequently charged with much responsibility for the high cost of living, escapes that indictment in the report of the department of agriculture.

It says in the past 20 years the margins between the producers' price and the consumers' price has not widened much, if any.

No doubt the best game of the season will be played Saturday on the I. A. C. grounds, George Winters' Green Mountains vs. Italian A. C. This is a guaranteed attraction. The Rah! Rah! boys will be played to-day on the I. A. C. sensational college pitcher, and George Winters, formerly of the Boston Red Sox, world's champions.

It is rumored that Malcolm, who is to pitch for the Green Mountain Athletics, to-day, June 14, against the Italian A. C. on the latter's field, will join Clark Griffen, Washington American, at the close of the college season. So, fans, this may be your last chance to see this sensational college pitcher in this locality.

SOUTH CABOT.

Eric Bovee is visiting in St. Johnsbury this week with his brother, Ernest. Mrs. Dan Curran of Lowell, Mass., and Mrs. Hattie Woodward of St. Johnsbury were called here this week by the serious illness of Mrs. E. M. Putnam, who is very low at this writing.

C. E. Scribner and family were in North Danville Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Woodbury were at Eugene Putnam's over Sunday.

Last week Wednesday, June 4, between 80 and 70 Knights of Pythias and their families and neighbors met at the home of W. O. Southwick to remind him he was 65 years old. It being a complete surprise to him. The evening was spent in a social manner. Vern Hudson, chancellor commander of Marshfield lodge, presented Mr. Southwick a nice oak rocker, upholstered in leather, in a very suitable manner, to which Mr. Southwick responded. Refreshments of cake, coffee, fruit and sandwiches were served, after which all departed for their homes, leaving best wishes for many more happy returns of the day.

Mr. and Mrs. James Bouldry were in Peacham last Tuesday.
